Watching the Bridge of Justice Burn — Lyrics (Canonical)

Citizen250 / Common Good Chorus
CC BY 4.0 — Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 International
Updated: 2026-01-24

Canonical audio: https://archive.org/details/watching-the-bridge-of-justice-burn
Canonical lyrics: https://archive.org/details/watching-the-bridge-of-justice-burn-lyrics

My life flows on in endless grief,
Above our lamentation.
I hear the truth, beyond belief,
Of a cold, captured nation.
No spin can hide the blood-stained snow,
Nor the mother’s final sighing.
Since I heard the whistles blow,
How can I keep from crying?

I see the car, I see the turn,
I see the agent’s hand reaching.
I watch the bridge of justice burn!
No due process, just preaching!
They call her “violent” — “rioter,”
But the video ain’t lying.
When justice bows to wealth’s power
How can I keep from crying?

They blocked the door
To keep the truth from light of day.
They say the law is at their core
While they spirit the proof away.
Her final words break through with grace
“Not mad,” still complying.
Till there is justice in this place!
How can I keep from crying?